Excerpt: . letter iv No. li Field Hospital, Tin Camp, Ladysmith, April, 1900. Dear R., Ladysmith at last! We came up here early in March, and I must relate some of our experiences, especially the journey, which was rendered quite entertaining by one of the Sisters of the party, who came up unexpectedly with us, arriving at Mooi River the night we started. I was lying under my bed one afternoon, evading the flies and trying to find the coolest spot to enable me to sleep, when one of the Sisters came in, and said, I have good news for you. You are to go up to Ladysmith to-night, so you had better get up at once. I rolled out from under my bed at once, and as Sister W. came in to echo the news, I danced round my tent with joy. We were both tremendously keen on getting into Ladysmith. We learnt that we were to be dispatched with two others, one of whom I have already mentioned, and who was then strolling about dressed in khaki--a big, strapping-looking woman. After packing and having our dinner, we all lay down till i a.m., as the train did not go till then. The superintendent had arranged to come and see us off--an unnecessary piece of conscientiousness. We lit our candles at i a.m., and crept out of our tents. It was an odd little sight, seeing figures creeping about in the dark with little...
