Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from St. Andrew s College Review, 1901 This, the first edition of the Saint Andrew s College Review, is a paper edited entirely by the boys. In it all forms are represented, from the Preparatory to the Fifth Form. We, the editors, have endeavored to produce a paper which will not only interest the boys, but also older people. We are sure that no subscriber will regret the pleasant moments spent buried in the depth of such highly classical literature such as St. Andrew s College alone can produce. The objects of this paper are twofold - to encourage the boys to literary work, such as composing essays, short stories, poems, etc., and to give them a business education as well; and to improve the mind of the reader. For through books, and through this one in particular, is the chief and most accessible road to knowledge - knowledge because it includes the other two results of reading, discipline and culture. This paper will be issued once a term, and no doubt each succeeding number will be more interesting than its predecessor. St. Andrew s College was founded at Toronto in the year 1899 as a residential and day college under the auspices of the Presbyterian denomination. The situation for the college could not have been better chosen, and may justly be considered one of the best in every way for this kind of a college. The college has the convenience of lying quite within the city, yet it possesses beautiful and extensive grounds, which, we may safely say, are unexcelled by those of any similar college. As their name, Chestnut Park, implies, the grounds are...
